

Interested in history - then you must go for this camp.

You'll try to live in an Iron-age environment with reconstructed houses where you yourself will be a part of the environment, dressed up in Iron-age clothes and working in workshops with crafts and cooking.

After this start you'll "meet" the Danish Vikings and the Viking-king Harold Bluetooth who gathered Denmark and Norway and made the Danes Christian, as it is written on the big runic stone.

You'll also have a look into the Danish Middle-age and of course you'll meet with Denmark as it is today, and there will be time for being together in order to promote international understanding.
